Dear Rupert,

On behalf of Save the Children I would like to offer my sincere thanks to Best of the Best for your generous donation of £500, which you made in February 2009. Your support allows us to continue helping some of the world's most vulnerable children.

Save the Children is a global independent children's charity, working in over 50 countries and reaching nearly 6 million children through our work each year. We focus on four fundamental rights for children: health, freedom from hunger, education and protection. We are also responding to emergencies in more than 20 countries around the world.

Meet Josephine

Josephine lost her two-year-old child because she couldn't reach the health centre that was a two-hour walk away. She says that the new health centre Save the Children helped to build in Gahunga, Rwanda is like "the end of a nightmare".

Meet Chido

Chido and her twin sister lost their parents. They live in a village called Chivhere, about 30 minutes' drive from Harare, Zimbabwe. The area has been hit hard by the food crisis and Chido has come to the monthly food distribution in their village, which is supported by Save the Children. The sisters are among the many orphaned children and other vulnerable people benefitting from the food aid programme. Chido also comes to the safe children's area at the distributions point.

It is through donations like yours that we are able to achieve such dramatic change for vulnerable children, their families and their communities.

As an organisation that relies on donations to carry out its work, we are grateful for any fundraising undertaken for us. To find out about other ways in which you can support our work, please do contact me, I would be happy to answer any questions you may have.

Please also accept this letter as an official receipt of your donation. Thank you once again for enabling us to achieve dramatic change for children.

Yours sincerely,
